

BOWER HILL NEWS

Dear Friends,

If anyone were to peruse my most precious possessions, he or she would come upon a collection of beautiful crosses. The very moment I set that phrase to paper, however, I realize that of all the oxymora I have ever recited in rhetoric, this is the most intrinsically incongruous. To whatever degree we would romanticize the cross, there is nothing whatsoever beautiful about the cross. It is such an ugly, horrific instrument of torture that one wonders how God could employ it in his ultimate act of salvation. I suppose C.S. Lewis' classic comment imbues some meaning into our Heilsgeschichte—our salvation story: “God uses all the wrong roads to bring us to the right places.” God used the Via Dolorosa—the road to the cross—to bring us to the glorious place of salvation.

Emil Brunner, Christian theologian of the twentieth century, agrees that the death of God's Son on the cross is an absolute “must” in God's scheme of things. It is an historical necessity since the human situation of sin and guilt in relation to God is dangerous, sinister, and disastrous; and only God can accomplish his reconciling work in our encounter with God. It is only because the cross “must be,” that what seems to be an unintelligible tragedy becomes a significant saving act... in point of fact, the reality that “it could not be otherwise” demonstrates that the death on the Cross was no accident, no thwarting of the divine plan of salvation, no frustration of divine government of the world, but, on the contrary, was itself an integral part of the divine saving history. “Therefore, Christ had to suffer”—the whole liberating truth is based upon this “must”... Paul's statement that He (Jesus the Christ) “was obedient unto death, even death on a cross” can be considered the shortest and most effective summary of the whole life of Jesus. His crucifixion was “the must” to which he was obedient. [\[i\]](#)

We - who find our society's present predilection for violence repugnant - want to ask whether God's salvation couldn't have been attained otherwise than through the bitter cross?

Dorothy Sayers in effect posed the same question:

*Hard it is, very hard,
To travel up the slow and stony road
To Calvary, to redeem mankind; far better
To make but one resplendent miracle,
Lean through the cloud, lift the right hand of power
And with a sudden lightning smite the world perfect.
Yet this was not God's way, Who had the power,
But set it by, choosing the cross, the thorn,
The sorrowful wounds. Something there is, perhaps,
That power destroys in passing, something supreme,
To whose great value in the eyes of God
That cross, that thorn, and those five wounds bear witness. [\[ii\]](#)*

What is this something supreme that the divine gesture of power would destroy rather than elicit? It's faith, faith and obedience together. The right hand of power would surely evoke our fear and awe; but only the cross can kindle faith, and only faith as a response to Christ's sacrificial love can inspire homage.

*I did not know the meaning of Cross:
I counted it but bitterness and loss:
Till in Thy gracious discipline of pain
I found the loss I dreaded purest gain...
Yea, in the Cross I saw Thine open face,
And found therein the fullness of Thy grace. [\[iii\]](#)*

God's saving act is complete only when you and I believe and when, at the name of Jesus, every knee shall bow.

Faithfully yours,
Calvin Coolidge Wilson, Interim Pastor

FOODBANK STILL NEEDS YOU!

FOOD DRIVE

On Sunday, Sunday March 14, we will have our regular collection for the Wallace Food Pantry. This is a critical time of the year for food banks and pantries. High-protein foods like peanut butter and tuna, baby items of all types (diapers, formula, food), and whole grain cereals and oatmeal are always deeply appreciated.

BOOKWORMS

Bookworms meets on the third Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the home of a member, for fellowship and discussion of a chosen title.

Because the February meeting was cancelled due to the weather, we will discuss both the February and March books at our March meeting. It will be held on March 16 at 7:30 p.m. at Nina Helbling's home. The February book was "Boomsday" by Christopher Buckley and the March book is "Have a Little Faith" by Mitch Albom.

Join us for a stimulating discussion and fellowship!

MEN'S FELLOWSHIP CONTINUES WED. MORNINGS

Senior men's breakfast meets every first Wednesday of the month at 8:00 a.m. at King's Restaurant on Rte. 50, Washington Pike near the end of Greentree Road, in Scott. We had eight men gathering in February.

There is no agenda other than good fellowship and interesting conversation. No invitation or reservation is needed. We meet in the room to the left of the cashier. Questions? Call Dave Green at 412-531-2205.

PNC UPDATE

The unusual snowy weather has had an effect on everyone including the Pastor Nominating committee. A personal interview with a very viable candidate had to be postponed because of weather conditions and hopefully will be rescheduled quickly.

In the meantime the committee continues to review pastor information forms and listen to sermons on CD's.

As always your prayers are appreciated.

SANCTUARY ENTRANCE FOR CHURCH SERVICE

We have deliberately not removed the snow from the walkway to the main entrance to the Sanctuary. During the winter months, there is a tremendous heat loss when the double doors are open prior to the Sunday Service and also the inside double doors are open leading into the Sanctuary. We will keep the walkways open to Fellowship Hall, where our members can come into the Church, knock the snow off their shoes and hang up their coats and proceed to the Service. Thanks in advance for your cooperation and understanding.

PARKING LOT UPDATES

Severe winter weather created some parking challenges in February. Here are some updates on BHCC's plans for dealing with snow:

- THE PARKING LOT NEXT TO HOSPICE

These parking spaces can be used during our Sunday morning worship Service. The walkways to the Fellowship Hall entrance will be maintained.

- HANDICAP PARKING REMINDER

All spaces outside the Kitchen entrance are for our handicapped members who need this area for parking during Sunday mornings. Only one space is available for non-handicap parking.

- PORTICO ENTRANCE LOT

On Monday, February 22, an additional two rows of spaces were plowed in this parking lot. This lot was maintained at a minimum capacity during the week to save on plowing expenses; but due to increased need on Sundays, the plowing schedule will be increased to match demand.

- WHAT A GREAT PROBLEM TO HAVE!

- MOFFETT STREET PARKING

Additional parking is available on Moffett Street in front of the Church.

MUSIC NOTES BY JESSICA BAIER

The Chancel Choir will provide special music for the Good Friday Evening Service on April 2, 7:00 p.m., in the form of a cantata entitled "Tenebrae: A Service of Darkness." This cantata, written by Hal H. Hopson, will feature both contemporary and traditional selections. Several readings accompanied by the extinguishing of candles brings this service to a meditative conclusion shrouded in darkness.

The "service of darkness," or Tenebrae (Latin for "darkness"), dates back to the 4th century, according to some sources. Traditionally observed during Holy Week, it focuses on the final hours of Jesus' life and crucifixion.

For shadows to exist, there must be light. In the case of the Passion story of our Lord, that light, as the gospel of John tells us, "was the light of all people." (John 1:4). Tenebrae: A Service of Darkness, walks us through the final hours of Jesus' life including His crucifixion. But as John affirms,

"The light shines in the darkness,
and the darkness did not overcome it."
(John 1:5)

In its original form, the cross was a tool of execution, or death. But in the eyes of faith, it symbolizes victory and life eternal! In a day when the powers of evil threaten to destroy our optimism for a brighter tomorrow, the cross stands as a reminder that love is stronger than hate, and that hope prevails in times of despair. Standing in the shadow of the cross, we find comfort and courage in knowing that we can live in a future that is ultimately of God's making! (Lloyd Larson)

Beneath the cross of Jesus I fain would take my stand,
The shadow of a mighty Rock within a weary land...
I take, O cross, thy shadow for my abiding place...
~Elizabeth C. Clephane

In addition to the Chancel Choir preparing for all the music that goes into Lent, Holy Week, and Easter, the Handbell Choir is preparing for the North Hills Handbell Festival. This will take place May 1, 2010, at Marshall Middle School (part of North Allegheny School District). There will be a public concert at 5:00 p.m.

Thank you for all the prayers, cards,
meals and phone calls during Paul's illness and his passing to be with his Lord and Savior. Your thoughtfulness was greatly appreciated.

YOUTH NEWS FROM DAN GETKIN

Could we have had a stranger February than the one we just experienced? It was the kind of month that takes all of your plans and runs them through a paper shredder. Usually, that's not a good thing. However, despite the snow and the mess it caused, February turned out to be a great month for our youth group! We finally made it downtown to try out the ice rink at PPG Plaza (I didn't even fall once!), enjoyed brunch together, and continued our engaging discussions during education hour. Perhaps the best event of all, though, was the result of a cancellation. We spent a day distributing material into our community to collect food for Souper Bowl Sunday, and when the blizzard forced us to cancel our pickup time, we expected to not collect any food for South Hills Interfaith Ministries. Our congregation responded in wonderful fashion, bringing their own donations with hardly any prompting. Such a gesture is a fantastic reminder that this church supports us and will find ways to lift us up through any hardship. From the bottom of our hearts, thank you and God bless you.

WORSHIP INFORMATION FOR MARCH

Our sermon series for the five Sundays in Lent continues in March.

Titled CROSS PURPOSES, the sermons recognize that from the very beginning of his ministry Jesus was at cross purposes with cultural distortions of his day as well as with religious leaders who oppressed the people with stringent religious rituals and banal practices. A second nuance of this phrase is that there were specific purposes of his cross on Golgotha and that his crucifixion fulfilled a divine plan on our behalf.

LENTEN VESPER SERIES

Overheard: Conversations by the Cross
Wednesday Evenings at 7:00 p.m. in the Sanctuary

What if it were possible to overhear conversations of people who were involved in our Lord's Passion during the week of his arrest, trial, and crucifixion: even right then while the events were happening? Such a speculation calls upon our imagination to speculate what they would be saying. During four Wednesdays in March, we shall listen in on the verbal exchanges of eight characters of the Passion Narratives. The scenes will take place in a Jerusalem Café. In addition to the two people we overheard in February (Jason Rising as Malchus and David Hicks as Mark), the characters will be presented by our own members from the congregation.
